

SeaPort Airlines Announces “No Slowdown” Promotion

SeaPort Flights are unaffected - Helps Passengers on Canceled Flights on Other Carriers

(Nov. 7, 2025 – Boeing Field, Seattle) As the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) continues to roll out flight restrictions across the nation, including at SeaTac and PDX, SeaPort Airlines is announcing a 20% discount for travelers looking for an alternative way to get between Portland and Seattle. The discount is called “NoSlowDown.”

“Since SeaPort Airlines operates its high-frequency shuttle service from Boeing Field, we aren’t affected by the government imposed slowdown at SeaTac airport,” said SeaPort Airlines CEO Kent Craford. “We know this is causing a real problem for many travelers, but the good news is that if you are flying between Seattle and Portland, we offer a vastly superior way of getting you there that saves hours per flight.”

Craford noted that the experience at Seattle’s Boeing Field is night and day to the hassle and time suck of dealing with SeaTac, even in the best of times. At Boeing field, passengers park for free just steps from the front door of the King County International Airport terminal, can arrive just 20 minutes before their scheduled flight, and will be in Portland at the Business Aviation area of PDX within the hour. He said customers can save 3 hours round trip over any other travel method – including the slog of I-5, the diesel-powered Amtrak train, or the mess of SeaTac.

“SeaPort Airlines has 16 flights a day – and none are affected by the government throttling of departures and are operating normally as scheduled - and on-time,” Craford said. “And to help alleviate some of the pain that people are feeling because of the slowdown at SeaTac, we are offering this discount promotion to encourage people to give our fast and reliable service a try. People have a choice to all that chaos – at SeaPort Airlines we will keep you out of the fray and get you on your way.”

Customers can use the 20% off promo code when they book tickets on flyseaportair.com for the duration of the government-imposed flights restrictions at SeaTac. Just type “NoSlowDown” in the promo field.

Craford said SeaPort Airlines is hoping for a swift resolution to the government-imposed restrictions currently in place, but this is also a great time for travelers to give this alternative approach to air travel a try. “It’s a time to skip the SeaTac hassles and fly SeaPort. Did we mention parking is free?”
